

One of the challenges in programming a news/talk radio station is giving the listener a pleasant change of pace from a steady diet of hard news and opinion. The American Countryside provides that change of pace very effectively. I know our listeners look forward to hearing the entertaining and informative stories from across the country each day. The staff at American Countryside is great to work with, so if you are looking for an entertaining, interesting, and enjoyable change of pace in your daily line up plug in The American Countryside.
